Dear Friends and Neighbors,

- Cotton Belt Railroad Symposium
- GED Classes
- Adult Basic Education to improve adult reading levels
- English as a Second Language classes
- Computer workstations dedicated to children's activities
- Free internet access workstations
- Wireless internet access within the building
- Print books
- Large print books
- Books on CD
- E-Books
- DVDs
- TexShare databases with full-text sources
- Local history and genealogy
- Passport Acceptance Agency (fee-based)
- Faxing and photocopying services (fee-based)
- Christmas Open House
- Authors' Park honorees reception

The library is accredited by the Texas State Library and is operated and managed by the Friends of the Commerce Public Library, a 501(c)(3) non-profit. The Commerce Public Library receives funding from the City of Commerce, from Hunt County, from Commerce Community Cares, Inc., from grants, from Friends memberships, and from individuals, businesses, and organizations. However, their generous support is not enough to keep the doors open and the bills paid, so we depend on additional donations from individuals like you.
